

Who does himawari uzumaki marry in boruto

When Naruto ended, we got a sneak peak at the future of Naruto, especially seeing who most of the characters we love got married to. Some of which even had kids who now go to the Ninja School same as their parents went too. The ninjas we know and love are now all grown up, some got promoted while others now just enjoy their times being in peace. Here are a list of which character got married. Naruto Uzumaki and Hinata Hyuga I knew that Naruto and Hinata would get married, from the love she had for him to him always caring about her. She stayed by his side, now we have two amazingly cute kids, Boruto Uzumaki and Hinata Hyuga I knew that Naruto Sarada Uchiha Sasuke Uchiha came back to Konoha after his journey to find out how the world works. Sasuke had promised Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see her again, from then on he most likely married Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see her again, from then on he most likely married Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see her again, from then on he most likely married Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see her again, from then on he most likely married Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see her again, from then on he most likely married Sakura that he would eventually come back to the Leaf to see little bit of an obsession with Bolt, Naruto's Boy, she follows him throughout the Kage Summit Meeting Day, seeing how stupid he is. Shikamaru Nara and Temari to end up together, they both spent a lot of time with each other, while at the same time didn't want to be in a relationship. Still they got married and had a kid called Shikadai Nara. Getting most of his looks from Shikamaru, it's not a surprise since he looks pretty bad ass. And just like Shikamaru he doesn't seem to have a lot of respect for anyone, even his uncle Gaara. Still, he seems like a skilled yet closed individual, hehe is also part of the InoShikaCho, taking part in their parents combinations. Sai and Ino Yamanaka Inojin Yamanaka Ino Yamanaka he wears his cloths, even his weapon behind him. However with his yellow hair, he definite stands out of the crowd. He's also part of InoShikaCho combination. Choji Akimichi and Karui Chocho Akimichi and Karui, from the Cloud Village, didn't have a lot of contact from what we saw. However, somewhere along these lines they got to know each other well enough to get married and even have a child, named Chocho Akimichi. Chocho seems to have more of her mothers side compared to Choji. Chocho can also handle being called a fatty, she doesn't care at all. She's also a part of the InoShikaCho team who plan on taking over from their parents. Kiba Inuzuka and Tamaki Akamaru Kiba Inuzuka and Tamaki, they may or may not be a couple, however I'm going to mention them anyways. Tamaki was a little girl who worked at a shop in an abandoned city along with her grandmother. They don't have any kids, so most likely they're not married or are just waiting, or something. Nevertheless, Akamaru is still with us. He's a little old, however he just loves to sleep all day long. Rock Lee and Youth Student Rock Lee seems to have married someone, but it's not known yet as this youthful student is known yet as this youthful student is known yet as this youthful student is known as Metal Lee! His training regime consists of high numbers of push ups, sit ups, crunches and much more. He also is a fan of Taijutsu, just like his dad is part of the Lee clan. It's also hard to tell who the mother might be sine a lot of his facial features and characterises come from Rock Lee. Asuma and Kurenai's Daughter I should explain that Asuma and Kurenai's Daughter I should explain that Asuma and Kurenai's Daughter I should explain that Asuma and Kurenai were lovers, they did not get married or engaged for that matter. Ever since they were small school kids, they've always liked each other. From that love, they created an amazing ninja that we see now. Her name is unknown, however I'm sure we'll learn it soon enough. These are just the initial couples we know off that are married within the world of Naruto. After the Mini-Series of Naruto is published, I'm sure we'll see more well known faces with even more cute kids running around. What are your thoughts on these couples and their children, who is your favourite? 57 reais con 90 centavos R$57,9910x 5 reais con 90 centavos R$5,18sem juros25 reais con 90 centavos R$12,96sem Himawari Uzumaki (うずまきヒマワリ, Uzumaki Himawari) is a citizen of Konohagakure, a member of the Uzumaki clan, as well as a direct descendant of the Hyūga clan. Background Himawari as a toddler. Himawari is the second and youngest child of Naruto and Hinata Uzumaki. On the day that Naruto was to be inaugurated as the Seventh Hokage, Himawari wanted to bring her panda toy to the ceremony, but Boruto, fearing that he would end up carrying it, tried to take it away from her. When the toy's head was ripped off in the ensuing tug-of-war, Himawari awoke her Byakugan and attacked Boruto, though he was knocked out in the process. Fearful of what an attack that could defeat his father would do to him, Boruto tried to run from Himawari, but she quickly located her brother hiding in a closet. From then on, he vowed to never anger her again.[2] Personality Himawari showing her kindness. Himawari is a cheerful and considerate girl. She is shown to adore her family, hoping to make her late cousin Neji happy by bringing flowers to his grave. She also cares about her older brother, hoping to play with him whenever possible. Himawari's considerate nature extends towards strangers, such as when she gave up her Kurama toy to a boy, believing that he deserved it more than her. Likewise, she shows a strong affinity towards animals, able to approach most wild beasts calmly and with acceptance from them. She is also considerate about the future. While many expect her to become a shinobi due to her lineage, she has decided to experience various career paths to determine her own goals.[4] When her mother was injured during Momoshiki's attack, Himawari stayed by her bedside as she was healed by Sakura. She is mostly understanding of her often-absent father and his Hokage duties, but yearns for him to be home at times.[5] Himawari has also picked up her father's trait of referred to Orochimaru as "Oro-chan".[6] She is also a rather educated girl; despite not being in the Academy yet, Himawari has strong understanding of chakra manipulation and its applications to advanced techniques like the Shadow Clone Technique.[7] Himawari losing her temper. At the same time, Himawari losing her temper, she can become very violent when provoked. When her favourite plush was accidentally damaged by Boruto, she assaulted him. She usually has no memory of these outbursts. This display of aggression made her elder brother run away and hide from her and vow never to anger her again.[2] The same event also caused her father and Kurama to be terrified of her.[8] Himawari showing her indecisiveness. As mentioned by Iruka Umino, Himawari possesses the same stubbornness that her father and brother possess, while also being somewhat boisterous and hyperactive, mainly when she's determined in achieving a certain goal. Himawari also shows signs of her father's nindo of never giving up at the face of difficulty, urging Eho Norimaki to continue their Academy trial session despite them being trapped in a well. However, contrary to Boruto she is also show to display the same traits of patience and humbleness of her grandfather by continually being understanding of Naruto's circumstances for not being present for events such as her birthday. Appearance Himawari in Boruto: Naruto the Movie. Himawari bears a striking resemblance to her mother, having her dark-blue hair that she wears with straight bangs and a hime-cut. Like her brother, her hair flares out on the sides and back, and she has an ahoge (ア本毛, literally meaning: foolish hair) on the top of her head, which resembles the stem of a leaf. She has inherited her father's blue eyes, whisker markings on each cheek, unruly hair, and facial features.[1] She is considered very cute.[9] As a toddler, Himawari wore a pink sweater, a three-layered white flutter skirt, black pants, and a pair of flat pink sandals, with a light green twin bead hairband on her ahoge. While visiting Neji's grave, she wore a collared, long-sleeved yellow shirt with an orange cross-hatch pattern that resembled a sunflower, red pumpkin shorts, and yellow shinobi sandals. In Boruto: Naruto the Movie, she wears a light yellow long-sleeved hooded-sweater with a blue shirt underneath that has a petal-like pattern, and a two-layered pink flutter skirt. She also wears long, black open-toed stockings and fuchsia shinobi sandals. Abilities While not actually a kunoichi, Himawari has considerable potential, showing prodigious talent for it similar to her older brother. Even more, her untrained might was able to terrify her brother and knock out her favourite toy was torn by Boruto.[2] Hiashi, expressed how impressive it was for her to awaken it at such a young age without any prior training.[3] When activated, her normally blue eyes take on the white and featureless appearance characteristic of the Byakugan. With it, she possesses a near 360° field of x-ray vision (except for a small blind spot at the upper thoracic vertebrae), see through solid surfaces, see across great distances, and also clearly perceive the chakra pathway system. Despite no prior training for it, she was able to quickly make effective use of it. At the same time, she has originally had no conscious control over her Byakugan's activation, only activating involuntarily from moments of the same time, she has originally had no conscious control over her Byakugan's activation. extreme emotional build-up. By age 10, she learned to access it at will.[4] Physical and Chakra Prowess Himawari showed deceptive raw might. She can launch large amounts of scrap metal into the air with a single strike and jump a considerable distance into the air. Boruto to follow.[10] Himawari also showed remarkable agility and athleticism, able to easily complete an Academy training course, beating other children who had trained rigorously to become ninja. She has very advanced chakra control. With no prior training, she was able to perform the Tree Climbing Practice on her first try and only failed from losing focus.[4] New Era Academy Entrance Arc In the anime, on the day before the entrance ceremony for Boruto to attend the Academy, Hinata tells her children again about how her time in the Academy with Naruto was. While Himawari enjoyed the story, Boruto show no interest as he already heard the story before. Later, when Boruto returned home, Himawari asked him to play with her. As he politely declined as he had homework, remembering Himawari's Byakugan, Boruto asked Hinata about the dojutsu, hoping to figure out more about what has been happening with him. Soon afterwards, Naruto returned home, too tired from work to join his family for dinner, much to Himawari meeting her aunt and grandfather. Later, as Boruto began acting weird, portraying himself like a flashy movie hero, Himawari grew concerned for her brother. Once her family confronted him about this, he said he finally awakened his Byakugan, shocking everyone. As Naruto remembered how Himawari was able to manifest her Byakugan with no prior training, he considered it possible, deciding to take both his kids to Hiashi Hyūga for better answers. Upon arriving at their grandfather's home, the aging Hyūga head quickly began doting over his grandkids, which Himawari quickly returned the similar feelings. Himawari watched in dismay at Boruto's allegation of manifesting his Byakugan, it was decided to test the theory with a duel against Hanabi. Himawari watched in dismay at Boruto's allegation of manifesting his Byakugan, it was decided to test the theory with a duel against Hanabi. Himawari watched in dismay at Boruto's allegation of manifesting his Byakugan, it was decided to test the theory with a duel against Hanabi. was soundly defeated by their aunt, which left everyone to conclude that Boruto did not gain the Byakugan. Afterwards, it was decided for Himawari again. Later, Himawari helped her mother make a big feast to welcome Boruto's friend and classmate Mitsuki. Much to her joy, Naruto was also joining them for dinner as he finished work early. Himawari runs towards her father and embraces him as she blissfully talks about how she helped Hinata make dinner as he finished work early. table. However, as dinner was about to begin, learning from one of his dispersed clones, Naruto left to investigate a strange release of chakra spreading throughout the village, leaving both Boruto and Himawari disappointed. Despite this, Himawari seemed to understand along with her mother while Boruto showed great displeasure with Naruto. Sarada Uchiha Arc Main article: Naruto Gaiden: The Seventh Hokage and the Scarlet Spring In the anime, Himawari became sick due to a fever. As Boruto was watching over her while Hinata went to pickup her medicine, Naruto arrived home worried about her, making Himawari extremely happy. On the day of the Kage Summit, Himawari accompanied her mother in visiting Neji Hyūga's grave. When she asked her mother if he would like the sunflowers she brought for him, Hinata assured her that he would, because they were the same as her name. She then cheerfully said that she wanted to visit the memorial site again with her brother. School Trip Arc In the anime, as Boruto was getting ready to go on a field trip to Kirigakure, Himawari saw him off, asking him to bring back a souvenir, which he promised to do. When he returned however, having been caught up in stopping a would-be coup d'état, he forgot his promise completely, leaving Himawari sad. As Himawari became very withdrawn, Hinata finally broke her silence and reminded Boruto of his promise. Ashamed of this, Boruto insisted that he had to get the present from one of his friends, much to her joy. He later returned with his friends, much to come clean. He then gave Himawari both the box and an apology, admitting to his mistakes, which Himawari entered a children's art competition where she won first prize for a drawing of her father. Sai Yamanaka invited Himawari to the academy to act as a guest teacher in hopes she was able to help Inojin Yamanaka with his art slump much to Boruto's annoyance. Later, Inojin sought Himawari to become his teacher so he could learn about art and he realised the importance of putting emotion into his artwork when he rescued the drawing she made of Naruto. Genin Mission Arc Main article: Genin Mission Arc In the anime, as Boruto prepared for his first genin mission, Himawari saw him off and wished him good luck. Byakuya Gang Arc In the anime, when the Byakuya Gang Arc In the anime, when the Byakuya Gang show up in the village Himawari is eating dinner with her mother prepare the party. After Naruto failed to join the party because of work, Himawari, who's own birthday was quickly approaching, began making efforts to ensure that their father came. Naruto Shinden: Parent and Child Day Main articles: Naruto Shinden: Parent and Child Day and Parent and Child Day Arc NOTE: In the anime, the events of this arc occur after the Mitsuki's Disappearance Arc. Himawari was found sleeping at their doorstep in eager anticipation of Naruto returning home for Parent and Child Day. Himawari asked her father for the new Kurama doll released for the day and a sleepdeprived Naruto agreed once learning about the limited edition nature of the toy. The two headed out and find a giant crowd waiting outside the toy store before its opening who were all also looking for the doll. Naruto and Himawari met Kiba Inuzuka and his two dogs, Akamaru and Akemaru, who was also looking for the doll to buy for his girlfriend Tamaki. Trivia The name "Himawari" (向日葵) means "sunflower". When reversed, the first two kanji spell "Hyūga" (日向), which can also be read "Hinata," making her name a reference to both her mother and the Hyūga clan. "Mawari" is also a reference to the spiral theme in Naruto's name, as "mawari" is the Japanese word for "rotation" (回り). Himawari and Boruto were the only known descendants of the Hyūga clan who initially did not possess the Byakugan. However, according to Masashi Kishimoto, he intended to give them the Byakugan, but forgot to before releasing chapter 700.[11] This was essentially corrected in the Zai no Sho one-shot where Himawari and her brother are also recognised as legitimate members of the Hyūga clan due to their direct bloodline from their mother.[4] Quotes (To Boruto) "Big brother~... Are you playing hide and seek with me~? Are you here...? Hehehehehe."[12] (To her mother) "Next time maybe we can come together with big brother!"[13] References
